

Proofreading

Proofreaders correct a copywriter's work before it goes to press. Proofreaders have expert knowledge in grammar, syntax, punctuation, formatting, sentence structure, and spelling. Often, a copywriter cannot correct his/her own work, so, a second party is important in capturing the misuse of language and typical typographical errors. Proofreaders are vital to providing accuracy to the creative process.